

Testimonial for Charles Lim

10 April 2025

To Whom It May Concern,

As the class advisor for Charles. I am pleased to provide a testimonial for him. I am pleased to write this recommendation for Charles Lim, an exceptional student who has consistently demonstrated academic excellence, leadership, and a strong passion for cybersecurity. As the top student in his class, Charles stands out not only for his outstanding academic results but also for his dedication and consistent effort to excel in all aspects of his learning.

Charles is a proactive and responsible learner who is always prepared for class and actively engages in discussions. He is deeply committed to his academic success and is known for his disciplined approach to learning. Beyond academics, Charles is a supportive and collaborative classmate. He frequently assists his peers and takes on leadership roles in group work, where his ability to guide and motivate others shines through.

He is also an excellent communicator, able to interact effectively with both students and lecturers. Charles's professionalism and respectful attitude make him a well-regarded member of the learning community. His genuine interest in cybersecurity is evident through his independent research and pursuit of professional development. Notably, he successfully passed the ISC2 Certification in Cybersecurity on his first attempt — a significant achievement that reflects his deep understanding and commitment to the field.

During his internship at Custodio Technologies, Charles made valuable contributions to the organization. He developed and contributed a virtual machine to the cyber range used for training and simulations. He also played an active role in conducting cybersecurity awareness training for staff, helping to build a more informed and secure workplace. His supervisor provided very positive feedback on his performance, highlighting his technical competence, communication skills, and initiative.

Charles is a highly motivated, skilled, and well-rounded individual with strong potential to excel in both academic and professional settings. I fully recommend him for any future educational or career opportunities in the cybersecurity field. He will undoubtedly be an asset to any institution or organization he joins.

Sincerely,

Lim Ming Wei. CISSP, SSCP, CCSP, CC
